

One of the oldest tricks in the book, one of the simplest forms of bankruptcy fraud.

After a Debtor files for bankruptcy protection, you buy the assets really really cheap. For much less than they are worth. There are all sorts of laws and rules to protect the public against this most basic type of bankruptcy fraud. But laws and rules only work when lawyers, U. S. Trustees s, and Federal Bankruptcy Judges have not been infiltrated by lawyers having hidden loyalties to thier

neo-mafia

organized crime associates.

Long story short, it is not BankruptcyMisconduct.com which is making allegations of fraud in the Lehman Bankruptcy rush to a firesale. It is the $700, $800, and $900 per hour and more lawyers of BigLaw Bankruptcy Industry law firms alleging fraud in the Lehman case, in writing

!

Oh no, bankruptcy fraud ... somebody call the Bitchslapper !!

Andrew Cuomo kept this wife beater out of jail, so we know the Honorable Judge James Peck isn't owned or nothing like that.

(p.s. Check out the bankruptcy court appointed Examiner's Report on Lehman's pre-bankruptcy fraud and collapse)